Federal Tax Withholding (Form W-4R/OMB No. 1545-0074)

Basic Information About Withholding From IRAs: Generally, federal income tax withholding applies to payments made from IRAs.

Purpose of Form W-4R

You can use IRS Form W-4R or a substitute form, such as that contained on this form furnished by the Trustee or Custodian, to instruct your Trustee or Custodian to withhold no tax from your IRA payments (or to revoke this election). This substitute form should be used only for distributions from IRAs that are payable upon demand. Complete Form W-4R to have payers withhold the correct amount of federal income tax from your nonperiodic payment or eligible rollover distribution from an employer retirement plan, annuity (including a commercial annuity), or individual retirement arrangement (IRA). See below for the rules and options that are available for each type of payment.

Non-Periodic Payments – 10% Withholding

Your payer must withhold at a default 10% rate from the taxable amount of nonperiodic payments unless you enter a different rate in the Withholding Election section. Distributions from an IRA that are payable on demand are treated as nonperiodic payments. Note that the default rate of withholding may not be appropriate for your tax situation. You may choose to have no federal income tax withheld by entering “-0-” in the Withholding Election section. See the specific instructions below for more information. Generally, you are not permitted to elect to have federal income tax withheld at a rate of less than 10% (including “-0-”) on any payments to be delivered outside the United States and its territories.

Caution: If you have too little tax withheld, you will generally owe tax when you file your tax return and may owe a penalty unless you make timely payments of estimated tax. If too much tax is withheld, you will generally be due a refund when you file your tax return. Your withholding choice (or an election not to have withholding on a nonperiodic payment) will generally apply to any future payment from the same plan or IRA. Submit a new Form W-4R if you want to change your election.

Revoking the Exemption From Withholding

If you want to revoke your previously filed exemption from withholding, file another IRS Form W-4R with the Trustee or Custodian and check the appropriate box on that form.

Statement of Income Tax Withheld From Your IRA

By January 31 of next year, you will receive a statement from your Trustee or Custodian showing the total amount of your IRA payments and the total federal income tax withheld during the year. Copies of IRS Form W-4R will not be sent to the IRS by the Trustee or Custodian.

Payments to Nonresident Aliens and Foreign Estates

Do not use Form W-4R. See Pub. 515, Withholding of Tax on Nonresident Aliens and Foreign Entities, and Pub. 519, U.S. Tax Guide for Aliens, for more information.

Tax Relief for Victims of Terrorist Attacks

If your disability payments for injuries incurred as a direct result of a terrorist attack are not taxable, enter “-0-” in the Withholding Election section. See Pub. 3920, Tax Relief for Victims of Terrorist Attacks, for more details.

This information is not intended to provide you with complete withholding rules and regulations for state tax withholding. Navy Federal makes every effort to obtain information about state tax law from state revenue authorities, and every effort has been made to ensure its accuracy. Because state tax laws are subject to change, often without prior notice, the accuracy of the information cannot be guaranteed beyond the revision date of the form. # Important Information About RMDs From Traditional/SEP IRAs

Note: The RMD does not apply for a Roth IRA plan.

Required Minimum Distribution (RMD) Regulation

IRAs are designed to encourage tax-deferred savings for an individual's retirement; they are not intended to permanently shelter these dollars from income tax. Therefore, Internal Revenue Service (IRS) regulations (Internal Revenue Code 408(a)) require that IRA account holders begin taking annual distributions from their Traditional/SEP IRA in the year in which they turn age 73 (age 72 in 2021 or 2022 or age 70 1/2 or older in 2019). The objective is for the IRA to be disbursed during the account holder's lifetime. To accomplish this, the RMD for each year is calculated by using the Uniform Lifetime Table divisor applicable to the individual's age for that calendar year. The table applies to both married and single plan participants and is applied annually. The data required is the individual's age in the distribution year and the account value (fair market value) of the plan as of the end of the prior calendar year. Those individuals with a spousal beneficiary who is more than 10 years younger will use the Joint Life Table. However, this will result in a longer distribution period. The RMD must be satisfied by December 31 of each year.

Navy Federal will calculate, arrange, and disburse the IRA account holder's RMD free of charge upon receipt of NFCU 312 or a letter containing equivalent information. However, the IRA account holder bears the ultimate responsibility. Because of the complexity of the IRA rules and possible tax implications for individual circumstances, members may wish to consult with a qualified tax advisor for additional assistance. In addition, Publication 590-B, Distributions from IRAs, is available from the IRS. You may also call Navy Federal's IRA Section at 1-888-842-6328 between 7:30 am and 7:30 pm, Monday through Friday, Eastern Time.

Required Beginning Date

IRA account holders must receive the entire lump sum balance or begin receiving annual disbursements by December 31 of the year in which they turn age 73 (age 72 in 2021 or 2022 or age 70 1/2 or older in 2019). The first annual payout may be delayed until April 1 of the following year. If this option is chosen, the account holder will receive two distributions in the first year. Future RMDs may not be delayed and must be distributed by December 31 of each year.

Fair Market Value

The Fair Market Value is the balance of the IRA on December 31 of the previous year adjusted by adding any outstanding rollovers or transfers taken in the preceding year and received this year.

Beneficiary Information

The IRA account holder may change the beneficiary(ies) of the plan without consequence(s) to the RMD, unless you are using the Joint Life Table.

Multiple IRAs

If the account holder has multiple IRAs (at different financial institutions), they may take distributions from each IRA. You may also combine the total fair market value and take the distribution from an IRA at one financial institution. We will use the Uniform Lifetime Table to calculate these distributions.

IRS Penalties

You may have to pay the IRS a penalty tax equal to 25% of a RMD if you fail to withdraw in a timely manner.

Method and Frequency of Distributions From a Navy Federal IRA

The RMD from Navy Federal may be distributed monthly, quarterly, or annually as determined by the account holder. The account holder has the option of having the funds deposited into a non-IRA Navy Federal account, sent by check via mail, or mailed to a non-IRA account at another financial institution. The RMD from your Navy Federal IRA will be disbursed first from your IRA share account(s) followed by IRA certificates with the lowest dividend rates. Navy Federal will not assess a dividend penalty on RMD funds withdrawn from an IRA certificate. If we do not receive written notification from you, your RMD will not be distributed.

IRA Contributions

For taxable year 2020 and beyond, the law removes the age limit at which an individual can contribute to a traditional IRA. Anyone that is working and has earned income is allowed to contribute to a traditional IRA regardless of age. Contributions for the preceding year (2020 and later) can be made up to the IRS deadline for each given year.

IRA Rollovers and Direct Transfers

It is possible for account holders to take IRA distributions that are intended to be "rolled back" into an IRA within 60 days or transferred to another financial institution during year 73 (age 72 in 2021 or 2022 or age 70 1/2 or older in 2019) and forward. Sometimes, these funds may not be redeposited back into the IRA account until after December 31 and therefore will not appear as part of the fair market value used to determine the RMD for that year. Nevertheless, these must be added back into the December 31 fair market value balance when calculating the RMD. A 60-day rollover withdrawal does not satisfy the RMD requirement. RMDs are not eligible for rollovers and must be satisfied prior to a 60-day rollover.
